A Legacy of Courage and Activism is an offering to the next generation of leaders in education equity—to inspire, to inform, and to give the gift of the history of this movement,

From the passage of Proposition 227 which nearly decimated bilingual education in California, to a renewed commitment to multilingualism with the passage of Proposition 58, and the subsequent adoption of the California English Learner Roadmap, Dr. Laurie Olsen aims to make sense of nearly 70 years of English Learner history in California through interviews with leaders at the forefront of the movement.

Join us as we come together to reflect on these stories and discuss how the voices of those who have gone before us inform our work today and how we are taking the lessons learned to our current work.
